Collection and Disclosure of Information

We comply with the Federal Privacy Act. The information we collect about you is required for us to perform your test. The format of our report containing the results will vary depending on the type of tests performed and whether the report is prepared to comply with Australian Family Law Act 1975. The report will contain the following information: Your name, date of birth, date your sample was taken, who collected your sample and your genetic profile. This information together with your photograph, if supplied, will be provided to some or all of the following:

- All other parties to the test
 - Your solicitor if you are legally represented
 - The solicitor for any other party to the test. If these other parties are legally represented
 - The guardian or government agency acting on behalf of an individual being tested. This would normally be for children who are Wards of the State or people incapable of giving informed consent
 - For testing requested by the Department of Immigration and Citizenship, a report will be sent to the High Commission, Embassy or Consulate that requested the initial test to be performed
- Your genetic profile may be de-identified and used for statistical purposes.
